Allied Pixel Provides Video Streaming Services for DEA

MUNCY, PA (November 2009) – Allied Pixel provided video production and web streaming for the funeral of Drug Enforcement Administration agent, Chad Michael, who was killed in Afghanistan. With less than a week to prepare, Multimedia Staging asked Allied Pixel to webcast the funeral with a high quality video feed from the church where the funeral was held, to a neighboring church where overflow viewing took place. The funeral was attended by family, friends, co-workers and high ranking government officials, including the Attorney General, and the head of the DEA. In conjunction with Multimedia Staging, Allied Pixel provided audio and video production equipment and staffing as well as streaming hardware and distribution services. The nearly two hour broadcast was viewed live, worldwide by close to 1400 viewers.
