Allied Pixel Wins W3 Award for Family Support Line Website

MEDIA, PA (November 1, 2012) – Allied Pixel has received a Silver W3 Award for its redesign of the Family Support Line website (www.familysupportline.org.) Allied Pixel developed the site from the ground up, including information architecture, graphic design, programming and training.

Family Support Line executive director Pat Kosinski said “The site offers such vital information in a way that is easy to navigate and access with a beautiful presentation. Parents can get the help they need to keep their child safe. ”

About Family Support Line:

Family Support Line is an organization that helps children, families and professionals address the trauma of child sexual abuse. Their services include comprehensive prevention programs, specialized treatment, professional training and advocacy. For more information, visit www.familysupportline.org/about.
