Allied Pixel provides social media management services

MEDIA, PA (July 2014) – What do an auto collision specialist and documentary filmmaker have in common? Nothing really, except that they both rely on Allied Pixel for management of their social media channels. Suburban Auto Collision and Lenny Feinberg are two of Allied Pixel’s most recent social media clients. “We like to work with clients on a strategic level,” said Allied Pixel president Bill Haley. “So it makes sense for us to handle social in addition to online video and web development.” Allied Pixel provides digital strategy as well as day to day management of client’s online properties.
